Kaleidoscope Group Gives Thomas Play

Under Milk Wood, the hilarious account by Dylan Thomas of a spring day in a small fishing village on the coast of Wales, will be presented in George Washington Auditorium on Friday, November 8, at 8:15 p.m. by Kaleidoscope, one of the country's top new touring theatrical groups.

"Under Milk Wood" is the second production in the 1962-63 Mary Washington College Concert Series. Single performance reserved seat tickets are available beginning Nov. 2 from the College and a limited number of seats will be for sale at the time of the performance.

Before his tragic death in 1953, Thomas was already recognized as the greatest living poet of the younger generation. Born in 1914 in a Welsh seacoast town, he was early steeped in Welsh lore and poetry, and in the Bible, all of which left their mark on his rich, startling imagery and driving rhythm.

"Under Milk Wood" was the masterpiece finished by Thomas just before his death and gave full expression to his sense of the magnificent flavor and variety of life. When the play was presented in New York with a cast of six assuming the sixty-odd roles, it was an instantaneous success.

Kaleidoscope, a new touring theatre company dedicated to presenting great works of theatre not often seen on the road, is composed of four actors who portray over 60 different village characters in "Under Milk Wood."

The four members of the company—Bill Fegan, Yvonne Dell, Pat Allredge and Will Sanday—represent varied theatrical backgrounds. Fegan has managed and directed stock and touring companies throughout the east and southeast. Yvonne Dell has two college degrees—one in speech and dramatics and the other in English—and has taught at a number of universities in addition to acting in a lengthy list of plays.

Pat Allredge brings to her roles a background of success in university and stock theatre. Will Sanday has sixteen seasons of stock and many tours to his credit as actor and director.

Presented by Kaleidoscope, "Under Milk Wood" is not merely a reading as in the original New York production, but it is a play with action, costumes, scenery, lighting and musical effects. The visit of Kaleidoscope here is being made under the auspices of the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges and is a part of a tour to several colleges and universities.

McGhee Lectures To IRC

United States State Department official William M. McGhee will discuss "Pan-Africanism and the Nationalist Movement" at the IRC meeting 7 p.m. Wednesday, November 13 in room 100 of Combs Science Hall.

African trends regarding economic and political unification will be the essential topic of the lecture.

McGhee was primarily responsible for the first meeting of African nations for the achievement of economic unity. In the spring of 1962 he returned to the United States after a 2 1/2 year assignment with the American Embassy in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

Mr. McGhee, a graduate of Georgetown University, is currently assigned with the State Department in Washington, D. C. The subject of Africa is part of this year's IRC program entitled "The 60's—Decade of Decision."

Class Selects First Leaders

Voting for freshman class officers was climaxed Monday evening with the announcement of the girls who will serve in this capacity for the coming year.

Patricia Ann Johnson from Portsmouth was elected to the vice-presidency. Patricia is planning to major in English. Mary Margaret Swanson, interested in the field of medicine, will serve as secretary. She hails from Arlington. Treasurer, Virginia Gill from Richmond, is a prospective major in mathematics.

Judicial representatives to SGA from the class will be Sandrine Lippucci, a history major from Alexandria and Annette Demond Maddara an English major from Petersburg. Christine Jean Richter from McLean will serve on the legislative council of the same body. Christine is planning to major in economics.

The elected YWCA representative is Patricia Ann Perkins, a pre-medical student from Arlington. Candidates visited freshman dormitories and listed their qualifications for office in Anne Carter Lee prior to the election held on Monday.

Council Announces Available Awards

The National Council of Mortar Board has announced the Katherine Willis Coleman Fellowship for graduate work during the academic year 1963-64. Each of the two fellowships carries a stipend of $200.

One award will be made to an active member of a 1962-63 chapter of Mortar Board who can qualify as a candidate for an advanced degree beyond the bachelors' degree in an accepted university.

The Worship Committee of the YWCA will sponsor the annual Thanksgiving Vespers Service in Monroe Auditorium on November 15, at 7 p.m. The program will consist of a recitation and choral reading. There will also be a speaker. Organ Music will be supplied by Susan Merris.

Letter From Cuban Girl Reveals State of Island

Most Americans know that the people of Cuba are living under poor conditions with the Communists in control of the island. This student of horrors being endured, however, is made clear in this letter which somehow slipped by the Communist censors.

It was sent to a Mary Washington student who is a native of Cuba. This student translated the letter and asked the BULLET to print it.

"Dear ————
This is just to give you a rough idea of what is really going on here, so you will do as much as you can to get me out of this inferno."

8 a.m. Get up; take 1/2 of a bath and brush your teeth half way because there is only one cake of soap and there is tube of toothpaste for the family—to last a whole month.

8:30 a.m. For breakfast you may have (if you are lucky) enough to get some milk! a glass of milk or a cup of coffee.

9:00 a.m. It's time for school. 10:00 a.m. While sitting in the middle of the most interesting lecture on Lenin, Marx, and Communism, you may be interrupted by a militia man who asks you (softly) to volunteer for cutting sugar cane in the fields. This means that you must do it—otherwise you are accused of being contra-revolutionary and put in jail.

12:00 noon Time for lunch. If you are lucky you may get a bit of Russian octopus. (In the mean time if you get a stomach ache, it's too bad because we don't even have milk of magnesia!)

3:00 p.m. It's about time for standing in line. To get some shoes they are distributed every six months; you need a ticket from the government and if you are lucky you may get to the front of the line before the shoes are all gone. (By the way, they are Russian made and very stylish.)

5:00 p.m. In getting dressed for supper you may run into difficulties—there is no material available. Pretty soon we will have to start a "nude camp" around here. I remember your asking me to "slow down" on makeup in case I wanted to "make a bit up there well. I must admit that I now have the natural look—this means not even lipstick! There are no cosmetics available at all.

6:30 p.m. Supper time. It's about time; we are quite hungry, but it's a pity that we have so much choice and such a great amount: one chicken a month per family, one pound of rice per family, a week, and one pound of meat a week per family (for all of you must stay in line for 7:30 p.m. Entertainment—where we have plenty to choose from: Movies: they are playing this movie, "Life In The Soviet Union." The Great Marx, Lenin and his doctrine, "Khrushchev and the Khrushchev"—but if you don't like this selection you can always go to the Social Club and dance for a while. There is always someone to dance with: a Pole, a Czechoslovakian, a Chinese, a Russian, or a Negro.

These are the best things happening today in your lovely island: the worst I will tell you when I see you next. That, I hope and pray, is soon. If you now have a headache, stay with it because I don't even have an aspirin to give you."

MWC To Give Graduate Exams

Mary Washington will be a testing center for those seniors taking Graduate Entrance Examinations on November 17. All students seeking admission to graduate and professional schools must take these exams. The exams will also be given in January.

Similar to college boards, the examination is designed to give the graduate schools information concerning the students' general knowledge and their achievements in the fields of their intended majors.

The aptitude test, lasting two and one half hours, includes verbal reasoning, reading comprehension and general math and algebraic problems. The Advanced Test, lasting three hours, is given in the afternoon.

Tests will be given in biology, chemistry, economics, education, engineering, French, geology, government, history, literature, mathematics, philosophy, physics, education, physics, psychology, sociology and Spanish.

Anyone wanting additional knowledge and application, contact Mary Kelly in Chandler Hall.

Players To Open Season

On November 15, 16, and 17, at 8:15 p.m. in duPont Little Theatre, the Mary Washington Players, under the direction of Mr. Mark Sumner, will present Hedda Gabler, one of Henrik Ibsen's most well-known plays.

Reservations may be made by contacting any member of the players or in the ticket booth in duPont starting November 12. Admission is $1.00 or a season ticket for all three plays may be purchased for $2.50.

The cast has been announced as follows: George Tiesman, Jim French; Hedda Tesman, Ilona Dreyer; Miss Juliana Tesman, Lang Struggles; Mrs. Elvsted, Diana Hamilton; Judge Brack, Hal Fisher; Elton Lovborg, William Middleton; Bertha, Sandy Muller; Hedda Gabler is obsessed with the desire for power over others. In seeking to fulfill her petty social ambition, she destroys a newly-found happiness of another woman, Mrs. Elvsted. Hedda drives Lovborg to suicide after he buys a manuscript which is his life's accomplishment.

Unable to bear the self-contempt and humiliation which her deeds merit, Hedda takes her own life. Ibsen's play paints a full-length picture of a frustrated woman in the time of the celebrated Norwegian playwright. Hedda Gabler has been called "one of the most poignant character-tragedies in literature."

Other major plays are scheduled for the 1962-63 season. The Miracle Worker by William Gibson will be staged on March 22 and 23. Hedda Gabler, however, will be presented on May 2, 3, and 4.

World University Service Sends Supplies to Students

Last year a mimeograph machine was held from November 14th when it was sent to Indonesia so through the 20th. Last year this that college students could print college of 1700 students raised $300.00 for the education they only 300 dollars. This year the goal has been set at 900 dollars.

An X-ray machine was sent to a 50 cents a person. If students student clinic in Hong Kong where can print their own book to free 70 percent of the students are free 70 percent of the students are treated for the common cold.

The organization which sent this equipment was the World University Service, or WUS, which is dedicated to the purpose of helping students. WUS, however, is not an organization of benevolent charity nor is it functioning for the benefit of individual students.

In Madras, India a TB is needed to treat the students. The government offered to furnish half of the money if the students could furnish the remaining half. The students pitched in, doing everything and anything but could only raise half of the needed money. Here WUS stepped in and furnished the remainder of the money.

By keeping a close watch on where the greatest need lies in economically underdeveloped countries, WUS attempts to give financial aid to those student bodies who seem most deserving of the aid. Moreover, WUS is affiliated with the United Nations and it is the insight of this body that helps to determine where WUS should be sent.

This year the WUS drive will

Visiting Scholars Provide Interest

The Department of History and the Political Science will sponsor a lecture by J. Steven Watson on November 9. Mr. Watson will speak on "The Common Market and the Commonwealth" at 10:30 a.m. in Monroe Auditorium.

Chairman of the Board of Modern History at Oxford University, Mr. Watson is at present a visiting professor at the University of South Carolina. His many publications include "The Law and Working of the Constitution" and "Oxford History of England. Mr. Watson is also a noted lecturer on British government and history.

Baly to Speak
The Department of Geography will sponsor a lecture by A. Denis Baly on November 15 at 2 p.m. in Room 100 of the Science Building.

Mr. Baly will discuss "The Contribution of Geography to the Understanding of Biblical Thought."

Mr. Baly is at present Chairman of the Department of Religion at Kenyon College. Other activities include the American Geographical Society, Royal Asiatic Society, and work with the World Council of Churches in Geneva. As both author and lecturer, Mr. Baly has spoken on such topics as "The World of the Old Testament" and "Persistent Patterns in Middle Eastern Cities."

These lectures are given as a part of the Visiting Scholars program of the University Center in Virginia. It was established in 1946 to give intellectual stimulation to faculty and students and to combat cultural isolation in American colleges.

Campus Fallout Shelters

When the Cuban crisis came to a head recently, many Mary Washington students "pushed the panic button" and assumed that nuclear war was imminent.

As a result, students began asking whether the college had any provisions for air raid shelters or any instructions for students as to the procedure in case of an attack. Rumors that MWC would soon institute air raid drills began to circulate.

The facts of the situation were recently explained by Mr. Edgar Woodward, director of the College. There are no immediate plans for air raid drills at MWC. The college must act as part of the city of Fredericksburg in any plan having to do with Civil Defense. This is because of the organization of the state of Virginia into four regions for Civil Defense purposes, each region having certain cities within it, and each city having its own head of Civil Defense. In Fredericksburg, the City Manager has this official capacity. Therefore, MWC must work with the city on such projects as air raid drills.

Mr. Woodward has been working with the city and state authorities on this problem for several years. Many different plans for the college have been considered, and one of these will be decided upon and announced at some future time.

It is interesting, however, to note the results of a survey made by the MWC last March, as part of a nationwide survey.

A team of federal engineers came to evaluate certain buildings in town as to their fitness for fallout shelters. Thirty buildings met the requirements, and among these are three buildings on the Mary Washington campus. Ann Carter Lee Hall has a declared capacity of 480, Willard Hall of 440, and Monroe Hall of 430 persons under conditions of fallout. Other buildings which passed the test included J. C. Penney and Co. store, which can hold the largest number of people (730) and the City Jail, having the smallest capacity (72).

In the report which gave these statistics, it was stated that permission would be sought from the owners of these buildings to stock them with medical supplies, food, chemical sanitation equipment, and water containers. The aim of this move will be to make each shelter potentially self-sufficient for two weeks.

The details of this report have been given in answer to the many questions students have been asking. Mr. Woodward stressed that this report was not prompted by the present Cuban crisis; it has been in the works since March and there is still much to be done before any definite plans or instructions can be given to students.

The recent Cuban scare has done somewhat, and it's not time to push the panic button yet. Plans are being made by the Civil Defense authorities and will be heard of from them as they are complete.

Improvements Needed

Ideally, Anne Carter Lee should house all organizations directly concerned with student activities. For various reasons, this is not the case.

Many organizations which have a vital responsibility to the student body do not have facilities which are adequate for the job that must be done. This includes not having a room large enough to allow as many members as need be met freely, not having sufficient lighting and temperature control, and not being in a location which is advantageous to carrying out their duties in the best manner. Admittedly, the student publications are among these organizations.

A lack of space seems to be one reason for the present state of things. Though this is a vital factor, could not some of the space in Anne Carter Lee be utilized more economically? The billiards and ping pong rooms are ones which are open only a limited amount of time during the week. Combining both of these recreational facilities in one room would leave vacant a room which is needed by others. The opportunity for recreation would not be eliminated and improved conditions for another phase of student activity could be increased.

Since this adjustment could possibly affect the social activities of each student on campus, would this be adding a few through the sacrifice of many? In fairness, perhaps this is a question which must be considered by those who could bring about such an innovation. Through discussion with many students, however, one soon discovers that the separate rooms as they stand at present are not requested by the great majority. In view of this, it seems that the student body as a whole should approve of the change that has been suggested.

Students who would or would not object to such a plan could speak up if this issue is to be acted upon and NOT overlooked.

Provisions Requested

The recent Cuban crisis forcefully brought to most everyone's attention the fact that Mary Washington, with all its fire drills and safety chairman, has no provisions for civil defense. The entire student body could follow. The members probably remember a few of the complex directions from their freshman fire drills, but who on this campus knows what to do in case of nuclear attack?

My answer is very few.

I do not suggest that each girl begin stockpiling canned foods and water in her closet. That would certainly be an alarmist reaction to the present situation. However,

I would like to see some bulletins issued containing a few simple directions as to what one must do in case of attack.

The federal department of civil defense has for years distributed directions to follow in case of enemy attack. Mary Washington, on the other hand, to my knowledge, has never issued any such directions to the student body as a whole. This seems a bit foolish in view of the facts that Fredericksburg is so near the center of the United States government and that so many military installations and that the world repeatedly gives birth to such crisis as those in Cuba and Berlin.

Chaperoned Dates, 9:45 Curfew Plagued MWC Students of 1925

Girls, when you are having a time of it this year in school, just think back to the year 1925 when Mary Washington was the State Teacher's College. Boy, have things improved around here. Every night we Freshmen have to roll our hair and put our Noxzema on in the dark because it's impossible to be ready for bed at 12:00, but just think of having lights out at 10:15 every night. The 1925 college girl had strict study hours from 7:15 to 9:30 every night; this seems to prove that she did not have half the work that we have today. In addition to being less studious than we are, she was probably fatter and healthier because all her absences from the dining room were properly reported to the Dean of Women who dealt with the black sheep accordingly.

Our old-fashioned college girl was very sheltered and protected from the world. She was always to be found lurking around a girl's school. She was forbidden to stand or walk on streets with young men, and she could never be seen sitting with them in automobiles or public places. She could, however, entertain her date. If he was on the appointed date, on Friday night in the parlor, provided that the Dean of Women was previously notified. In 1925, a young lady was never permitted to walk through the grove with men at night, and riding with a young man at night was considered a "shipping" offense. Now, girls don't you think that this is still a good idea?

Way back, it was taken for granted that all drives, dinners, that all drives, dinners, and social dates of any kind were strictly under chaperonage and requiring verbal permission from the Dean of Women. If a student ever had managed to get out for dinner, she had to return by 9:45, and her date had to be out of the park by 9:45. This rule was really quite liberal but then our college has never been narrow-minded.

The student of yesterday were not ladies above all. They would certainly be shocked to see girls running around in the dormitories without their kimonos and slippers on. Also, ladies were not seen in public or anywhere else with knickers on, but they were allowed to take walks down to Washington Avenue without their hats on. It was absolutely forbidden at State Teachers College for a student to indulge in card playing or smoking, and there was no vulgar dancing done while one was in the jurisdiction of the college; the very idea was shocking. Oh, if they could see us now.

Just as we of to day have many privileges so did the college girl of 1925. Underclassmen had the privilege of taking a walk on Sunday afternoons in groups of four provided that at least one senior was in the group. A humble freshman was permitted to enter the worldly town of Fredericksburg one afternoon each week and once on Saturday. The sophisticated juniors were permitted to be absent from college one weekend each month, and the lucky sophomores could cut breakfast once a week either on Saturday or Sunday. The dignified seniors were granted all the privileges of the Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors.

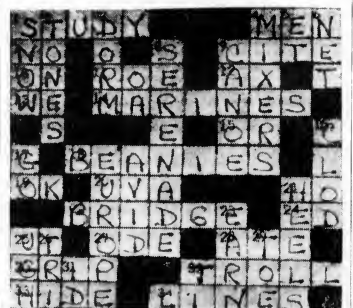

Perhaps this article has enlightened some of us who were in the dark and considered 1925 to be in the Dark Ages. The healthy outlook and wholesome school spirit is reflected in the following school yell, which we would all do well to learn:

Kala, Kala, Kala, Kala
Six Room Babs!
Gloriana, Frankpanna, Eureka!
Razoo, Razoo
Johnny, get your hazzoo,
Hip, skillee, hee, hee,
Kalamuchka honza
Fredericksburg, Fredericksburg
Rah, Rah, Rah!!!

In order that all students may purchase the annual, the deadline for buying THE BATTLEFIELD has been extended from November 1 to November 6.

Letter

To the Editors:

Last week we were all aware and upset over the tense situation in Cuba. All over the United States, preparations for the result of an enemy attack were being made. Shelters were designated, collars were stocked and instructions for procedure were given. Here at Mary Washington, however, it seems preparations were entirely absent. Areas of shelter were not announced until this week (October 28-November 4), several days after the tension had been eased. No extra food was stocked in said areas and absolutely no instructions for procedure to follow were given to the student body as a whole. Perhaps, the authorities were afraid that such action would alarm the residents, but it doesn't take much imagination to picture the chaos and hysteria that would have developed, if attack had occurred.

We feel we are mature enough, as college students, not to be upset over a "drill" or a program on civil defense. We hope that such programs will be initiated in the near future, whether a crisis is at hand or not. The more the SGA presents two weeks ago is a good start for such a program. Now we need information on practical procedures to follow in the event of an enemy attack.

Former Vaudeville Dancer Happy in College Position As Willard Head Resident

"Good night ladies... Lights out!" is one statement clearly recognized by every resident of Frances Willard Dormitory. The pleasant voice behind the intercom is that of Willard's Head Resident, Mrs. Ralph M. Hamilton.

Although Mrs. Hamilton is greatly handicapped being the "mother" of 260 girls, she never seems to fail in her duties. When it is a reminder to "sign in" or the repetition of "Fanny Burd," you have a caller in the parlor. Mrs. Hamilton is indeed a necessity to each girl's life at Mary Washington.

In her former years, Mrs. Hamilton led a very colorful life filled with exciting events. She graduated from high school in Crowley, Louisiana, and attended Sullivan College where she studied dance. As Mrs. Hamilton said, "That's where it all began."

In November, 1924, she received a call requesting her to fill a vacancy in the vaudeville production, "Dance, Color and Speed" which later came to be known as "Dance Vision of 1924." This show was selected as the finest dance act on the Keith-Orpheum circuit," Mrs. Hamilton commented.

They toured the United States and Canada, performing in all the big cities. At this time, vaudeville was at the peak of its popularity. On February 14, 1927, she married Ralph M. Hamilton. Her only child, David Wright Hamilton, is a signal officer at A. P. Hill. He has two children, Lisa and Jan who have definitely brightened Mrs. Hamilton's life as a grandmother.

Mrs. Hamilton came to Mary Washington college quite by accident. She was serving as executive secretary of the Tuberculosis Association when she received a call to report to Willard Dorm. At this time, Willard's Head Resident was ill and they asked Mrs. Hamilton to fill her place. In discovering the pleasure of being Head Resident temporarily, Mrs. Hamilton decided to stay on and served as Assistant Head Resident of Willard Dorm last year.

"We have a happy group that lives in a dormitory teaches the girls to become more responsible citizens. By using common sense you become good citizens, I want to inspire each girl to accept responsibility in order to be better citizens."

Mrs. Hamilton's final remark was she hoped each girl loved her as much as she loves them. It is quite confident that this year will be a profitable one to each girl.

Fourth Grade Woes Of Student Teacher

Believe me, you just haven't lived until you've tried living with too much of a day, five days a week—not counting staying in after school!

First thing in the morning, we have the pledge of allegiance to the flag and then we sing a patriotic song. (not a bad idea in these times.) Now wouldn't it be a good idea to let our student teacher lead the song, boys and girls? Great idea! "Do, do-do-o-o." "Ah—Miss Smith, maybe you'd like for one of the students to start it. OK, Sally. Now let's see if we can't start it just a tiny bit lower..." Well, they always told me in school music that children had high voices.

Now it's time for library period. Nice library—if you like Wee Wee and Jack and Jill. "All right, let's get your partners and line up for rhythms!" Every one likes rhythms—except Joe. "I ain't gonna dance with Gertrude!" "It's 'I'm not going to dance with Gertrude!' and oh yes you are!" Well, you know how it is. When boys are thirteen, even if they are in the fourth grade, they get a little funny about girls. Oh, we're going to do a Russian folk dance. Alice needs a partner? You want me to be her Partner 2, 3, 4, turn 2, 3, 4. What if I do 2, 3, 4. I think the dance is over now. Alice. You can let go of my hand now, Alice. Let go your little leech!

Oh, back to the room and my fourth grade size chair! Oh boy! It's time for fruit break! "Miss Smith, would you like a raisin?" They used to be grapes you know.

Now for a little arithmetic and Kelly Readers and then it's time to lunch. We have lunchroom duty today—and there are going to be two extra classes in there! Do the always do their empty milk cartons? No their empty milk cartons! No their empty milk cartons!

Guest Speaker to Address Physical Therapy Group

The Physical Therapy Club announces that Miss Ruth Marie Latimer, Associate Professor and Head of the Department of Physical Therapy in the School of Medicine at the University of Maryland, will speak at its next meeting, Wednesday, November 7.

Miss Latimer, who received her education at Westhampton College and the Medical College of Virginia, served as Physical Therapist for the American Red Cross from June, 1960, to February, 1961, in Meknes, Morocco. Here she worked with patients paralyzed from the consumption of adulterated cooking oil. She will speak on the details of her career.

Miss Latimer has also served as instructor, assistant professor, and assistant Technical Director in the Physical Therapy School at the Medical College of Virginia. She has been the chief physical therapist in the Physical Therapy Clinic at the University Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland, as well as acting as consultant for the Baltimore City Hospital.

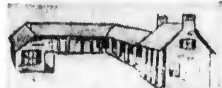

Anyone interested in hearing Miss Latimer is welcome to attend the November 7 meeting. The meeting will take place at 6:45 p.m.

Four Terrapin Members Attend Swim Conference

The Mary Washington Terrapin Club sent four of its members to the Eighth Annual Conference of the Association of Synchronized Swimming for College Women, which was held at Cortland College of Education in Cortland, New York, on October 26, 27.

Delegates from the synchronized swimming clubs of about thirty-five colleges were present at the conference. The Terrapin Club sent Mary Ellen Schoenweiss, president; Mary Carolyn Kyle, vice-president; Pat Boyette, secretary; and Missy Reed.

After traveling by bus all night, the girls arrived in Cortland at 7:30 Friday morning, October 26.

Following registration, practice sessions for the demonstration routines were held at the pool. The first general session was held Friday night, during which the weekend was outlined, and Mr. Myron Hendricks, an A.A.U. swimmer, spoke on the development of synchronized swimming. A reception followed the meeting.

Saturday morning, ten schools, Mary Washington among them, performed their routines for the conference. The Terrapin Club did the popular "Hearts" number. Three A.A.U. judges, Mrs. Jeanne McElligott, Mrs. Phyl Williams, and Mr. Myron Hendricks, gave a constructive criticism of each number and provided new ideas for each group to try.

Immediately following the demonstration, Mrs. Phyl Williams conducted a "float workshop." As she spoke, eight Dolphins of Cortland College and eight Terrapins of Syracuse University demonstrated various float patterns.

Mr. Hendricks' lecture of the importance of the A.S.S.C.W. Saturday afternoon, all the girls were divided into three groups and given schedules to attend separate meetings and discussion groups. Choosing and carrying through a theme, music interpretation, and costumes were the topics of discussion, and films of A.A.U. synchronized swimming competition were shown. Each group also spent an hour and a half in the pool learning new stunts, new strokes, and conditioning exercises.

The A.S.S.C.W. banquet was held Saturday night, after which the final general session was held. The University of Ohio was voted President School of the A.S.S.C.W. for next year.

Mary Washington's Terrapin Club hopes to send delegates to next year's conference in Ohio. This year's four delegates reported that the weekend was interesting, educational, and enjoyable. They obtained many new ideas and learned how to improve old ones, not only from the planned lectures and discussions, but also in talking to the members of other swimming organizations. This exchange of ideas and information should prove profitable to all the colleges present at the conference.

Group Spotlights The Joint Council

The Sophomore Leadership Training Program will hold its weekly meeting next Wednesday at 6:45 p.m. in Mason Rec Room. Mrs. Hoge, faculty advisor to Joint Council and Pat Garrison, SGA secretary, will speak on the Joint Council. Refreshments will be served by Mortar Board.

At the two previous meetings, Kathy Friedman spoke on the responsibilities of the SGA President and Betsy Ross Johnson and Kay Barrett outlined the duties of Legislative and Judicial vice-presidents.

The student government president's responsibilities are wide-ranged and very time-consuming, but Kathy emphasized the importance of the individual student in relation to each of her duties. The Legislative meeting Monday nights over which she presides is only effective if the hall chairmen communicate with each student; the committees, whose chairmen she appoints, are only as strong as the committee members make them; student body meetings are called when student need demands them; and weekly meetings with Miss Margaret Hargrove, SGA advisor, are for discussions of student concern. The President also has her own phone so that student problems may be discussed in complete privacy. "There is never a dull moment, but this is what makes it a challenge," Kathy said, "and I would do it again if I had the opportunity."

Tells of Duties

Betsy Ross told the sophomores that the Legislative vice-president assumes all the duties of the president and also acts very much in an advisory position. She is advisor to all house councils and small dorms. Beginning this year, Betsy Ross will also act as advisor to the day students, thus strengthening their link with Student Government and the school. This is the special project for the legislative vice-president this year. All the convocation programs are planned by the legislative vice-president, also. Kay, in outlining her judicial vice-president responsibilities, emphasized the importance of understanding thorough. The handbook and its interpretations. She described the trial of a student who had committed an infraction in detail to the sophomores present. She expressed the need for a tactful and thoughtful council and emphasized the advisory and counseling capacity of the Judicial Council as the greatest benefit it hoped to give. The Council seeks to help the girl, not just punish her, Kay said. All the girls said suggestions from the student body were always welcome and that is the main purpose of SGA office hours which are being held year from 2:00-4:00 each afternoon in the SGA room of Ann Carter Lee.

Recreation Association Revises Intramural Volleyball Program

The volleyball tournament, under the direction of Sue Tate, RA volleyball chairman, is being run on a "free team" basis, meaning that the restriction of one team from each dorm has been abandoned. Fourteen teams signed up to participate. These teams have been divided into three leagues, each team playing three or four games during the season.

The games will be played in a "round robin" style, a circle of competing teams shifts so that the opponents differ each round, and one team is given a resting period. This was chosen rather than the elimination tournament in which a team plays only until defeated.

When the "round robin" is completed, the league winners will compete to decide the tournament winner.

League I includes: Mason's Athletics Feet, Willard I, Virginia Ramsay's Raiders, Bushnell II, Willard II, Virginia Ramsay's Raiders, Bushnell Winn's Wonders, and Marshall.

League II includes: Betty Lewis and Mason combination.

Linda Brenner, a Mary Washington College junior, recently represented the Sigma Chi fraternity on the Homecoming Court at Washington and Lee University.

Willard III, Virginia Valley Vets, Randolph, and Westmoreland Court Sports.

The schedule is as follows:

October 29
6:45 Mason Athletics Feet vs. Willard I
7:30 Mason II vs. Willard II

October 31
6:45 Betty Lewis-Mason vs. Willard III

Students in Brent and Marye Learn by Using Languages

All dormitories have rules, but at Mary Washington College, two dormitories have a particularly unusual one. At Brent House, one rule states that "French will be spoken from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Mondays through Thursdays, and from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Fridays." About a block away from Brent is Marye, whose rules include that "Spanish will be spoken at all times."

Brent and Marye, the French and Spanish houses respectively, have been in existence for a number of years. Approximately sixteen students live in each house under the guidance of a head resident who is also a faculty member, and who speaks the language as a native. Seminar type programs, visiting speakers, and the social and cultural programs of the language clubs, which are centered in these houses, give additional opportunities for acquiring facility in speaking one of the languages.

All French and Spanish majors are required to live in the houses for one year, but every year in the spring, and the only general requirement is that the student should have had the equivalent of an intermediate course in the language.

Brent House, formerly a private home, was established as the French house in 1951. Although the students who live there all speak French fluently, none of them is from France. The girls represent several states, and one student is from Cuba. The Head Resident, however, Mademoiselle Laneri, is from Paris. As this is her first year in the United States, Mademoiselle Laneri acts not only as teacher, but also as student, since the girls of Brent make sure that she speaks English in her off hours just as she makes sure that they speak French during the day.

For the first time since the Spanish house was established in 1949, two of the students speak the language natively. Ilse Gelinek, the house president of City, both speak English as flu-

Elaine Fulcher, Lucinda Gujarraro, Ilse Gelinek, and Kerina Cramer admire dolls dressed in Spanish costumes.

ASIS Now Offers Jobs, Travel Aid

The American Student Information Service, the only official, authorized organization placing American college students in summer jobs in Europe on a large scale, is celebrating its 8th anniversary by offering travel grants and cash scholarships from $10 to $175 to the first 1,000 students applying for summer jobs in Europe.

Summer jobs in Europe include factory work, resort-hotel work, farm work, construction work, office work, hospital work, child care and camp counseling positions. Jobs are available throughout Europe and wages range from $175 a month for the highest paying positions in Germany to only room and board in Spain. The jobs are offered in conjunction with package arrangements costing from $50 to $750. Among other things, each applicant is provided with an album of language records of the country in which he will be working, a student pass allowing the bearer discounts throughout Europe, complete health and accident insurance coverage and a choice of tours ranging from 6 to 24 days.

Although ASIS offers complete arrangements with a round-trip scheduled jet flight, students are free to make their own travel arrangements. ASIS expects that many students participating in college charter flights will also want summer jobs in Europe.

For a complete 20 page prospectus and a European job application, contact either the Director of the Student Union, the Placement Officer, or write directly to ASIS, 22 Avenue de la Liberté, Luxembourg City, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. Enclose 20 cents for airmail reply.

Fire Hits Marshall Red Devils Top Green Goats

After complaining since the beginning of school about having no visitors from "on the hill," Marshall residents were overwhelmed by the masses flooding the hill on October 22. Actually these visitors were following two bright red fire trucks to find out what was going on.

The cause of all the trouble was a small fire in the electrical apparatus of the elevator. No one was hurt in the fire and little damage was done although a few girls were surprised to find that this was more than just another drill.

Phi Psi Chapter of Alpha Phi Epsilon will present a program and musicals on November 5 to commemorate the date the national sorority was founded.

This "Founder's Day" program will be given at 8 p.m. in the ballroom of Ann Carter Lee and will honor the patrons of the sorority. Members of the faculty and citizens of Fredericksburg who are interested in the music sorority are invited to attend.

Simpsons Visit Southern Ports

"Judging from the word that I have had, Dr. and Mrs. Simpson are having a most enjoyable trip," Miss Molly E. Coates, secretary to the Chancellor, made the foregoing statement after reading a letter from the Simpsons mailed at Beirut, Lebanon.

Their schedule is tentative and is dependent upon the cargo assignments of their ship, the Norwegian Sun, but Dr. and Mrs. Simpson expect to visit Alexandria, Palermo, and Genoa before returning home.

Naples, the Canary Islands and Casa Blanca are just a few of the ports already visited by the Simpsons.

Saville, Spain, will be the last port they touch before returning to Virginia at Thanksgiving.

'Who's Who' Taps Twenty-Six Girls

At the Honorary Tapping Convocation on November 1, 1962, twenty-six members of the '63 Senior Class were selected to be added to the list of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Ethel Armstrong is an art major from Lancaster, Pennsylvania. She has been active in numerous clubs and activities, some of which include the positions of president of both ICA and of Terrapin Club, secretary of the MWC Band, and treasurer of Hoofprints Club. Ethel is also an outstanding player on the hockey team.

Patsy Ballou is from Princess Ann and is majoring in math. Her activities include Chi Beta Phi and Alpha Phi Honor Society.

Kay Barrell, a sociology major from Alexandria, is Judicial Vice-President of SGA, a member of Student Council, and a member of Sigma Omega Chi Honorary Society Fraternity.

Linky Booth, the president of the Senior Class, is from Fort Meade, Maryland and is majoring in chemistry. She serves on honor council and on student council.

SGA Has Hours For Student Use

The Student Government Association now holds office hours every Tuesday and Thursday from 2 to 4 p.m. in the SGA room of Ann Carter Lee.

This service, recently introduced for the purpose of allowing students to voice opinions and complaints, has been very little used and will be discontinued if there seems to be no need for it.

Professor Cops Sculpture Prize

Gaetano Ceccere, Associate Professor of Art, is the recipient of the Daniel Chester French Award for sculpture in the traditional manner, for a portrait of a young woman. It will be on view at the 49th Annual Exhibition of the Allied Artists of America opening to the public on November 1st in New York at the National Academy Galleries.

This award carries with it great significance since it bears the name of a distinguished American sculptor who is the author of the Lincoln statue in the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Ceccere, throughout his life, unselfishly gave of his time to better and promote the art of sculpture in America.
